

Pine Mountain Guidance Institute

The Harlan County Planning Council, The Harlan County School Board, The City School Board and the Pine Mountain Guidance Institute are again sponsoring the Pine Mountain Guidance Institute opening Sunday night, May 25, and closing Saturday at noon, May 31.

Students are sent from each high school in the county to the Institute for that week. These students will work, as a committee on problems pertaining to rural youth and make recommendations to the Institute.

Delbert Helton, a senior in our school, has been chosen to represent this school at the Institute that week.

There were approximately ninety people present. Those in charge of serving were the ninth and tenth grade Home Economics girls.

Mr. James A. Cawood, superintendent of Harlan County Schools, acted as toastmaster. The invocation was given by Mr. Miller.

Mr. Rome Rankin, head coach and athletic director of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, was our guest speaker. He showed a moving picture of a football game played by Eastern and an outstanding team of Michigan.

Mr. Roaden commended the football and basketball boys on the fine spirit they have shown throughout this school year.

Coach Goforth complimented the boys on their fine spirit and cooperation. He expressed his regret to lose the graduating senior boys and said he hoped they would continue to show the same spirit and sportsmanship in the future as they have in the past.

Agony Column

We notice not many of the girls miss the bus lately. Could the driver be the reason?

Finley Barnette can take his girl friends to more interesting places to eat when the Glee Club goes on a trip. What about it, girls?

We notice when the Glee Club was at Pineville that some of the Middlesboro girls couldn't sing for winking at our boys. What about it Duke????

We wonder if Jim Stewart and Johnson are satisfied with the way girls talk when they are off to themselves???

After Steely spent three days in Lexington with five girls his name will surely be changed to Stella.

The rumor is going around that Mr. Simms saw thirteen shows during K. E. A.

Sweet moments we'd like to live over—coming from Lexington on the school bus.

Boy it sure isn't safe to be throwing rotten sticks around. Is it, Finley??

I believe Earl Hart is one of Little Abner's many fans; gee, he must read about him every day.

Jim Stewart and Eunice seem to be making hay while the moon shines.

Since when did home-sickness start developing at the gate Georgia????

It's bad for the regular girl friend when she finds a girl's ribbon in the boy's coat pocket. What about it, Cousin?

Too bad they don't have porch swings on the porches of the houses in Lexington. Maybe Georgia could have been more comfortable.

The new senior sweaters attracted a lot of attention on a certain street in Harlan. Whose kitten are you, Cousin????

Wonder what "Little Ad" thinks about Lexington?

Talk about porch swings, Dorothy T. wants the living room to herself next time. (Big sisters).

Why is it that boys don't like for any one to know they carry umbrellas? Could you tell us the reason, Johnson.

Too bad Dorothy couldn't see more of "Mike" since he is so handsome and such good company. Maybe he will still be in school at the University next year.

Football

After three weeks of hard work Coach Goforth has begun to make his future team look like a machine.

Though graduation the Eagles will lose the services of Inman, Johnson, Jones, and Helton, and we lose Reed, Robinson, and Paker by their dropping athletics. Although there are some fine looking prospects to take their places.

The Eagles tangled with the Wallins Purple Devils in an opening Spring game. The Eagles kicked off to Wallins who lost the ball on downs. After getting the ball the Eagles marched 65 yards for the first touchdown. Stewart made the conversion good.

Late in the first quarter Stewart scored on a double reverse and made the conversion good. The half ended with the Eagles leading 14-0.

The Eagles' second team started the game and showed up very well, although Saylor scored for Wallins late in this canto.

The Black Star first team replaced the Eagles' bombers and the Eagles took over again. Hart and Chambers cleared the way for Burnette and Tucker for the third score. Tucker was hurt and replaced by Parker. On the last play of the game Fore scored again behind the blocking of Hart and McCoy.

The game ended with Black Star leading 27-6.

The Wallins team and the Eagles were about evenly matched in weight and size.

One of the most important of all of children's health needs is nutritious food, points out Miss Maude Guthrie, U-T Agricultural Extension nutritionist.

The main character of this play, who of course is Leon, is very attractive to women and very aware of that fact, yet he has a pleasing personality. He is also very fond of lying and keeps every one wondering what story he is going to tell next. He almost loses his girl because some of his lies from away back finally catch up with him.

Faith of the Troubled

Silently they all trudge along
 With tearful eyes, no laughter or song
 Weary are they who for many a mile
 Have traveled along, no hope for awhile.
 Tears glisten the eyes of the smaller ones
 They're cold and hungry, no
 fires, no homes,
 Maybe, they say at each dreary
 mile
 Some one will cheer our downhearted smile.
 Not so long ago, so peaceful were they,
 Trying to follow life's hazardous way
 Now see them travel so weak and low
 In wagons and buggies on debris strewn roads.
 Why must they suffer, for others
 so bold
~~Who try in their greed this world~~
 to hold.
 To thought of the weaker, or those who behold
 A lang once so peaceful, now turning old.
 We, who are so peaceful would never care to boast
 As kings or as czars this world
 to own Faith, love and honor we always shall boost Till lifes earthly freedom shall turn back to dust
